

Why don't the project stats on the main project map update immediately?

The project stats on the main project are updated daily, not in realtime. If you have just added some data into your project, it won't show up in this stats box until the next day. If you want to check whether your records have saved, they will be saved in other areas of your project (e.g. to check if a trap record has saved, you can click on that trap, and a list of saved records will be visible at the bottom of the page).

The reason they are not updated in realtime is to improve site performance. As Trap.NZ has grown over the years, the site has become slower, and we found that updating this project stats box daily instead of in realtime improved site performance hugely.
